

who

Homeowner and Style at Home design editor Jessica Waks

Where

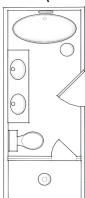

problem

The original bathroom was cramped and poorly laid out, with 1930s-era tiles and fixtures that were badly in need of updating.

solution

A complete gut job was done as part of a larger upstairs renovation, with space created by removing two closets and annexing some space from an adjacent bedroom.

floor plan 90 sq. ft.

TRAIDITIONAL.

In an extensive upstairs reno, Style at Home design editor Jessica Waks takes her master bath from cramped and dated to spaceefficient and totally sophisticated.

TEXT JENNIFER HUGHES | PHOTOGRAPHY DONNA GRIFFITH

· the look.

"I wanted the space to feel like a properly appointed salon, not a regular old bathroom," says Jessica. Details you'd expect to see in a living room, like textured wallpaper, wainscotting and herringbone floors, were sourced in bathroom-friendly materials.

· the layout. The bathtub was placed at one

The bathtub was placed at one end of the long, narrow room and a spacious shower at the other.

A new double vanity allows both husband and wife to get ready easily in the mornings.

· the extras.

A dramatic clawfoot tub with nickel-plated feet, sconces with pleated shades, framed prints and a Roman shade lend the space refined glamour.

· the materials.

Grasscloth-look vinyl wallpaper; marble wainscotting and chair rail; marble mosaic shower tiles; white marble countertop; walnut-look porcelain floor tiles.

↑ Clarke & Clarke Bukhara viscose blend Shiraz FABRIC in Natural, $149 per metre, through designers, Crown Wallpaper & Fabrics, crownwallpaper.com.

▲ Tresa Two-handle Widespread FAUCET in Chrome, $636, Brizo, brizo.com.

